Island Wages Up In 1945 While B.C. Total Down

Earnings of wage-earners on Vancouver Island increased in 1945 while the total earnings of employees of the province decreased. Annual report of the Provincial Labor Department today showed payrolls for Vancouver Island last year had totaled $70,534,600, an increase from $68,150,360 in 1944 and from the previous all-time high of $70,143,658 in 1943.

In Greater Vancouver payrolls fell to $171,190,910 in 1944 from $185,153,980 in 1943, but increased slightly to $183,694,695 in 1945.

In the remainder of the province a gain was reported in 1944 over 1943, but the earnings fell to $117,396,630 in 1945, from $148,758,730 in 1944, the all-time record.

Vancouver Island employees received 18.98 per cent of the total money earned by wage-earners in 1945.

Greater Vancouver wage-earners received 49.43 per cent of the total earnings in the province, while the mainland area received 31.59.

80 Movie Pickets At Hollywood Held

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—On the heels of an arbitration award clarification of which apparently overruled claims of the Conference of Studio Unions to rights of set-building—chief issue in the current strike—the C.S.U. staged its biggest mass demonstration of the dispute on busy Sunset Boulevard shortly after dawn today.

Within an hour, more than 80 pickets of an estimated 2,500 milling around the intersection near Gower Street had been taken in custody and hustled off to Hollywood jail for booking.

Police said they had more than 300 officers on duty. Observers said the demonstrators included not only studio workers, but longshoremen from Los Angeles Harbor and carpenters from other American Federation of Labor unions. Studio carpenters have led the present strike.

DUBLIN (CP)—Seven Canadians drew horses Friday in the first day's draw for tickets valued at $5,250,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes on the Cambridge-shire, one of Britain's major autumn horse races on the flat, to be run at Newmarket, Eng., next Wednesday.

Windblown Signboard Damages Auto

The strong wind Friday afternoon produced the result pictured above when a signboard on the north side of Oak Bay Avenue, off Amphion Street, was blown down and fell across the parked car of H. E. P. Higgins, 1895 Foul Bay Road, damaging the roof.

1 Of 4 Seamen Survives 132 Days On Ketch Adrift Along Australian Coast

SYDNEY (CP)—Sketchy messages reaching Australia from the French island group of New Caledonia, 1,000 miles northwest of here, are being pieced together into a story of a nightmare voyage by the 45-foot 15-ton ketch Nova, once called the Scotia, which went astray down the Australian east coast from Brisbane to Sydney.

Three of its crew of four dead from starvation, the Nova now is reported wrecked on a tiny island about 70 miles southeast of Noumea, New Caledonia capital, having drifted helplessly 132 days after being crippled in a gale.

Nothing had been heard of the little vessel after she called last June at the small port of Coffs Harbor, half way between Brisbane and Sydney. There 34-year-old skipper Grant West and Frank Anderson, 36, only two aboard, tried to get additional help for the delivery trip of the Nova from a Brisbane disposal sale to a purchaser in Sydney after a career of wartime service.

West sailed out of Coffs Harbor June 8, having taken on James Cush, known around the harbor as "Big Jim the Norwegian." Frank Pulling, a fourth crew member about whom little yet is known, joined the ketch somewhere around the harbor.

Five days ago Cush, his weight reduced from 270 pounds to 130, paddled a raft of planks and oil drums ashore at Isle of Pines, a former French penal colony. He told a French policeman who revived him with food that the Nova lay wrecked three miles away on a smaller island estimated to be nearly 1,100 miles from the Australian coast.

Cush, later taken to hospital, said the Nova lost her sails in a gale off the Australian coast. Her auxiliary engine ran out of fuel and the ketch then started a helpless drift which lasted 132 days and took the lives of West, Anderson and Pulling.

Anderson died of starvation and malaria Aug. 28. West two days later of starvation. Pulling died 19 days ago within sight of the French islands.

Jews 'Despicable' Said Colonel As Correspondents Held

JERUSALEM (CP)—Military sources said today the British army is conducting an investigation of the 90-minute detention of 10 foreign correspondents Thursday night by a British officer.

These informants said the army plans a full statement on the incident, which stemmed from an unsuccessful effort of the writers to get Mrs. Ted Lurie, wife of the New York-born assistant editor of the Palestine Post, out of a group of Jewish residents being screened for suspects in Thursday's bomb attacks.

The correspondents quoted Lt. Col. Richard H. L. Webb as at tacking the Jews as "a despicable race," and as telling them to: "Print everything I've said—use my name, I don't care if I'm out of the army tomorrow."

Roy Elston, representing the Palestine Post and the New Statesman of London, quoted Col. Webb thus:

"Somebody rang me up and said you press fellows were making a bit of a nuisance of yourselves, so I said, 'Bung 'em into the truck and bring them to me.' You know how these bloody Jews are. They take advantage of everything. You know what the Jews did in the settlements? They put women in front—and what women! They bulged all in the wrong places."

Jewel Thieves Make Rich Hauls In 2 Daring London Burglaries

LONDON (CP)—Daring jewel thieves took $40,000 in gems from the home of the Marchioness of Hartington, daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former United States Ambassador to Britain, Scotland Yard announced today, and made away with a rich loot in two other homes.

Gems and furs valued at $20,000 were stolen from an Orme Square home, and diamonds and heirlooms worth $3,200 were taken from the St. James's Palace home of Lady Piers Legh.

Scotland Yard, still hunting for the wily cat burglar who stole $80,000 in gems from the Duchess of Windsor 10 days ago, noted a similarity in the crafty preparation and almost ghost-like entry in the new robberies.

The victim of the St. James's Palace robbery is Lady Piers Legh, the former Sarah Polk Bradford of Nashville, Tenn., who married Sir Piers Legh, Master of the King's Household, in 1920. Sir Piers was equestrian to the Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales.

A housekeeper at Lady Hartington's residence in Westminster's Smith Square—a five-minute walk from Scotland Yard—said the value of the gems stolen there might be much higher than the initial estimate of $40,000. Police waited for the former Kathleen Kennedy—a widow since 1944—to return from a holiday in the country to obtain detailed descriptions of the missing items.

The thieves displayed the same exact foreknowledge which marked the Windsor robbery and other recent burglaries at homes of famed Londoners. They left an open front door at Lady Hartington's residence. The household staff had Friday night off.

Victims of the Orme Square robbery were J. Harvey and his daughter, R. Betty Levington. Speculation on the thieves ranged from guesses that a gang was involved to theories that a single and exceptionally clever operator made all the deceptions, including the spectacular robbery of the Windsor gems.

Scotland Yard, its entire criminal investigation division mobilized, apparently has made little progress in its search for the thieves, which has reached across the Channel and across the Atlantic.

Peace Brings Cut Of $16,474,073 In B.C. Total Payroll For 1945

The bright promise of peace ahead in 1945 brought curtailment in many industries of British Columbia, geared to high standards of production for war, with a resultant drop in provincial total payrolls by $16,474,073 to an estimated $371,625,927, annual report of the provincial labor department said today.

Estimated total payroll for B.C. during 1944 was $388,100,000. The all-time high was set in 1943 when B.C. wage-earners received $394,953,031. This was more than double the prewar high of $192,092,249 set in 1929.

The average weekly wage for all adult male wage-earners was recorded at $38.50 for 1945, representing only a slight recession from the all-time high of $38.70 established during the previous year.

Greatest increase was recorded in the public utility group, which gained $2,000,000, followed by food products manufacturing, up by more than $1,500,000, and coast shipping, up by $1,000,000, the report said.

Shipbuilding suffered the greatest loss, payrolls falling by more than $10,000,000 during the year. Shipbuilding was followed by miscellaneous trades and industries, whose payrolls fell by more than $9,500,000 and by metal trades, which lost $2,000,000 in payrolls.

The average monthly employment high for all industries in 1945 was 132,220 in July. The previous high of 138,911 was recorded in August, 1944.

Average weekly hours of work continued to decrease throughout the year in most industries, the average weekly working-hours for all employees decreasing to 45.59 as against 46.02 for the previous year, the report said.

Abuse Of Veto Rights Draws Assembly Fire

Tentative Pact Drawn Up To End Shipping Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Conciliator Frederick Livingston today announced an agreement had been reached between east and gulf coast ship operators and the striking masters, mates and pilots (A.F.L.).

Mr. Livingston announced the agreement at the office of the American Merchant Marine Institute.

He said it was subject to ratification by both the union and the operators before becoming formally effective.

Capt. Albert E. Voliber, chairman of the union's negotiating committee said: "We have signed an agreement and all that has to be done now is to have it put before the membership for a vote."

No Apartment Strike

There will be no concerted move in Seattle to keep apartments untenanted until the O.P.A. relaxes its rent ceiling policy. J. H. Totten, above, president of the Pioneer Apartment Group Inc., announced Friday night the operators who are members of that body would refrain from carrying out a plan to refuse to rent vacated apartments until changes were made. Lloyd Shorett, prosecuting attorney, had informed the group he would file criminal conspiracy charges against them.

Italy Hunts Down Sicilian Bandits

ROME (AP)—The government today opened a second front—in bandit-ridden Sicily—in its campaign against disorder.

While armed carabinieri and police in northern Italy rounded up dissident partisans, 1,000 soldiers and carabinieri set out after Sicilian bandits.

Italian news agency dispatches from Palermo said the entire outlaw-infested zone between that city and Cinisi had been surrounded.

Especially sought is the semi-legendary bandit Giuliano, whose recent kidnappings pushed ransom demands to all-time highs.

The operations in north Italy were capped Friday night with the arrest of Carlo Andreoni, journalist, ex-Socialist and leader of the ex-partisan Cesare Battista Division, which was the heart of the dissident movement. Andreoni accompanied the authorities peacefully, and Milan advisers said today the affair was "pretty well wound up."

NEW YORK (CP)—More voices were added today to the clamor in the United Nations' General Assembly against excessive use of the veto power in the Security Council, and against the Franco regime in Spain.

The presentation of opinions by leaders of the 51 member countries seemed to have boiled down to a lecture against Russia's frequent use of the veto and an appeal for United Nations' action to end the Franco regime in Spain.

Norway's Halvard M. Lange and Chilean delegate Felix Nieto del Rio both declared against what previous speakers had called "reckless" use of the veto power, but, like many others, they did not favor an immediate attempt to amend the charter's veto provisions. Both urged U.N. action to establish democratic government in Spain.

The presentation of views by leaders of the 51 national delegations continued today in accordance with the plan to meet Saturdays, morning and afternoon if necessary to make progress.

Sensational Nazi-Lewis Charges Cost U.S. Attorney's Aide Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Tom Clark accused O. John Rogge today of disclosing confidential information in a public address and dismissed him from the post of assistant to the Attorney-General.

In a crisp letter to Rogge, Mr. Clark declared "you wilfully violated" regulations by quoting from a department report in a speech detailing what Rogge said were Nazi schemes to defeat President Roosevelt in 1936, 1940 and 1944.

Mr. Clark said the information came from Rogge's own report on the wartime sedition cases against 30 Americans, which have been in abeyance since a mistrial in 1944.

The ousted official could not be reached for comment.

SPOKE AT COLLEGE

Rogge, in a speech Tuesday at Swarthmore College, said he had learned from captured Nazi documents and interviews with German officials that, among other things, before the 1940 election "the Nazis had a fantastic scheme to get John L. Lewis, the labor leader, to come out against the election of President Roosevelt."

"This scheme involved Hermann Goering, a Nazi agent by the name of Joachim Hertlet, and William R. Davis, a promoter in the oil business."

(Davis, whose German and Mexican oil connections once were investigated by Congress, died in 1941.) In his dismissal letter to Rogge, Mr. Clark said: "It has come to my attention that you have made certain statements in a public address that could only come from your report filed with me" on the sedition cases. In the report, Mr. Clark noted, Rogge recommended the government not pros (discontinue prosecuting) the cases.

"On the day before your speech at Swarthmore," Mr. Clark's letter continued, "and during our discussion in reference to newspaper stories appearing that morning, which claimed quotations of your report, you stated to me you had no intention of using the text or substance of your report in such speech and that it would be highly unethical to do so."

OLD RULES BROKEN

"It therefore appears that you wilfully violated the long-standing rules and regulations of the Department of Justice and it becomes necessary for me to sever your connection with the department."

Rogge said in his Swarthmore speech he had learned the German Foreign Office set up in 1939 an "American Committee" charged with trying to beat Mr. Roosevelt.

"In our 1936, 1940 and 1944 presidential elections," Rogge said, "the Nazis always preferred the one who opposed President Roosevelt."

John L. Lewis, chief of the American Federation of Labor United Mine Workers, declined to comment on Rogge's remarks about the asserted 1940 "scheme."

Planning Aviary At Beacon Hill

Tentative plans for the establishment of a first class aviary at Beacon Hill Park are being drafted by the parks committee, Ald. D. D. McTavish, committee chairman, said today.

With the employment of E. H. Lewis, former curator at Wrigley Bird Park on Catalina Island, who was instrumental in planning the collection there, the parks committee has hopes that a start can be made on a collection in Victoria.

Wednesday, No. 6, Mr. Lewis will show a number of colored pictures and slides of bird life in the other aviaries, with a discussion of what could be started in Victoria, to city aldermen, the school board and other civic officials, Ald. McTavish said.

Later he hopes to be able to show the pictures and outline the plans to larger groups of citizens who might be interested in the proposed collection.

"We would start our collection slowly," Ald. McTavish explained. "Building around the few birds we now have."

Production Not Altered

OTTAWA (CP)—Timber control officials said today removal of the United States import tariffs on lumber for housing would have "no effect whatsoever" on Canadian timber production. Under present Canadian regulations, timber producers in western Canada are required to sell one carload in Canada for every two they export, while eastern producers must sell two in Canada for each one they export.

"SILVER IN THEM THAR KITS"—When Milton Hammer, U.S. War Assets Administration executive, was flooded with offers of 5 to 40 cents apiece for 235,000 surplus "desealing" kits, he became suspicious. Checking, he discovered that the kits, which cost the taxpayers $20 apiece, contain five ounces of pure silver each, worth 90 cents an ounce. He's shown as he displayed the kits, used by downed U.S. fliers to make salt sea water drinkable, to House of Representatives Surplus Property Committee.

Christmas Tree Cutting Gets Under Way

Here checkers are shown at work at a lot at Ladysmith. The trees are already rolling to markets in the middle west and Atlantic seaboard states of the U.S.

Bearcats Seen In Saanich

Bearcats will be on view at Elk Lake on Sunday, Oct. 27, but not the kind you are thinking of. They are cute little things, but they operate on a trifling quantity of gasoline and oil and are very tame and obedient.

However, their power is amazing, and larger ones 2-3 horsepower, and they will plow, cultivate, disc, harrow, pull a trailer or lawn roller and a variety of other accomplishments.

If you value your time and strength in the garden, bulb farm, fruit farm or what-have-you, come and see them demonstrated. And best news of all, though in very short supply, there are one or two you can have delivered on Monday.

Come to Garden House, Elk Lake, operated by Hamsterley Farm Products Ltd. (A. H. Pease, manager), Sunday afternoon from 2 p.m. and if fine, Mr. Rogers will give the Bearcats a little exercise.

Chamber To Further Study Railway Plan To Raise Rates

Speaking at the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting Friday G. T. Richards stated the Chamber of Commerce should oppose any move of the railways to increase their freight rates. He said there was no necessity for increased rates because freight haulage through the Rockies was much cheaper now than it was in previous years.

"The fact that railways have had to increase wages of its employees is no excuse for increasing the freight rates," he said. "The decrease expenditure on freight haulage makes up the difference. In former years two railway engines were used to haul six freight cars through the Rockies, while now one engine can haul 60 or more cars at less expense."

The directors submitted the question to the railway committee for further study which will draw up a resolution to be submitted to the Railway Association of Canada.

Maj. Holmes announced the formation of a National affairs committee and one of its first duties will be to study a letter from the Vancouver Board of Trade regarding employer and employee relations.

The letter urges amendments to the Dominion-Provincial labor codes, and the right of a worker to join or to refuse to become a member of a union.

Fred E. Norris, newly elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said a campaign would soon be launched for new members. He said the Junior Chamber had lost many members as a result of a new regulation which set the age limit of membership at 35 years.

September Court Fines Total $4,200, 495 Convictions

The city police court "cash register" took a heavy toll from citizens' pocketbooks in September when a total of $4,208.25 was levied in fines, according to the monthly report submitted at Friday's meeting of the Victoria Police Commission by Chief of Police John A. McLellan.

There were 495 convictions or orders made. Eight cases were dismissed or withdrawn and four persons were committed for trial in higher courts. Of the persons charged in the court all were white but six Chinese and three Indians.

Stolen property reported to the police was valued at $1,851, of which $600 worth was recovered. Lost property reported was valued at $1,329 and $660 of this was recovered. A total of 1,105 reports were received for attention. All 17 automobiles reported stolen were recovered. There were 57 written reports on accidents, none causing fatalities. Twenty-five persons were slightly injured, none seriously. There were seven inquests into sudden deaths.

Patrol wagon runs for the month totaled 187. There were 47 premises found insecure. All 17 bicycles stolen were recovered. Eighteen persons were sent to prison without option. Two juveniles were charged with two indictable offences.

Policemen Join Union

Chief McLellan told the Police Commission Friday that he had been notified that the city police department had formed a union and applied for a charter to join the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. Mayor George commented "that is their privilege... and good luck to them."

The chief was authorized to spend $100 to secure traffic safety films from the National Film Board, to be made available to schools, service clubs and other organizations. A minority of citizens, it was emphasized, were sadly in need of education in traffic safety.

The commission was informed by a letter from the provincial Attorney-General's Department that an amendment to the Municipal Act was required before action can be taken against motorists who park their cars and leave keys in the ignition. A. J. Patton, city solicitor, will be asked to take the matter up with the Municipal Committee.

The decision was made at the meeting to proceed with a $300 expenditure to improve the ventilation in the city police court.

Having served his six-month probation period, Constable Keith J. Hollett was accepted on the permanent staff. Const. Alden Appleton was promoted from a third-class to a second-class officer.

WOSS CAMP, B.C. (CP)—This dateline isn't official yet, but it will be soon, the newest community to be hewn out of the timber wilderness of northern Vancouver Island.

The new settlement, about 250 miles north of Victoria, is being built as part of a $1,000,000 development project being undertaken by a Canadian lumber firm, Canadian Forest Products Ltd., on its Nimpkish operations.

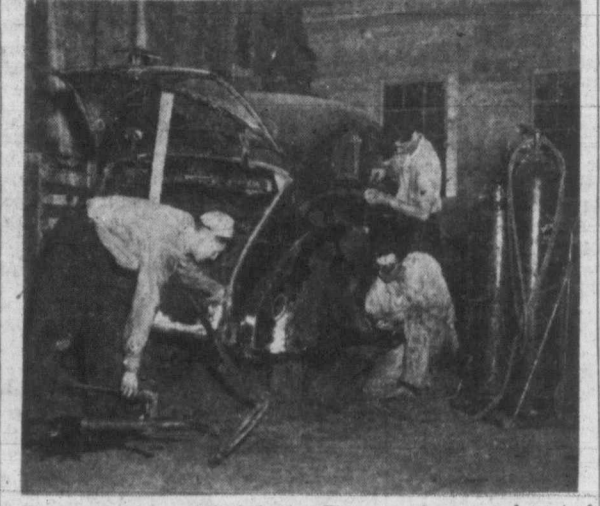

Company officials said the new logging town will provide housing, educational and recreational facilities for some 400 persons, mostly loggers and their wives. Railway shops also will be erected to maintain equipment to be used on a logging railway being built into the site.

Three ex-servicemen who helped keep army vehicles in shape during the war are using their skills in civilian life at Nanaimo.

The Bing brothers lived in Nanaimo before the war, but Tickell calls Penticton his home town.

Lost Hunter Died Naturally, Verdict Of Coroner's Jury

DUNCAN (Special)—Kenneth Duncan, 21-year-old employee of the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. in Victoria, whose skeleton was found in the woods in the Eagle Heights area near Shawnigan Lake, Oct. 17, three years after he had been lost on a hunting trip, died of natural causes, a coroner's jury decided here Friday afternoon.

Evidence presented to Coroner A. E. Green at an inquest held in the courthouse suggested Duncan became unconscious from exhaustion the night he disappeared and subsequently died.

The jury's finding was: "We, the jury, having heard the evidence and seen the exhibits, are of the opinion that the remains are those of Kenneth Duncan last seen Nov. 27, 1943, while out hunting. We believe death was natural."

Members of the jury were Ernest Atkinson, foreman; Leon Foucher, Walter West, John Chahley and Lloyd Dale, all of Duncan.

Dr. John Coleman of Duncan, told the coroner of removing the skeleton from the woods. All the bones but a few were found and re-assembled by Dr. Coleman, who said there were no indications of injuries from gunshot wounds.

Details of the hunting expedition were related by C. D. Collington, 1249 Davie Street, Victoria, who said Duncan alone had left a cabin about 3.30 on the afternoon he was last seen. Collington said he had fired shots from near the cabin early in the evening after Duncan was lost. Later during the night, Collington said, he, accompanied by two other men went to a knoll, about half a mile from where the skeleton was found, and fired 12 shots.

With the skeleton Duncan's rifle and 13 cartridges were found. One live cartridge was found in the chamber of the gun.

A belt, found with fragments of clothing near the skeleton, had not been tightened, indicating that Duncan had not died of starvation.

LET THE PROVINCES MEET

REGARDLESS OF THE FACT THAT AT least two of the nine provincial Premiers have prepared, or are in the process of preparing, their own proposals for a tax agreement with the Dominion government, it would seem to be the part of wisdom for the political heads of the provinces to meet among themselves and try to reach a common basis of attack on the present impasse. As matters stand at the moment, and there appears little prospect of any substantial change of mood in the foreseeable future, the scene is clouded by a political wrangle between Prime Minister King and the Drew-Duplessis axis. This is serious and aggravating enough in itself; it assumes a much more dubious complexion in the light of its obstruction to further deliberations between all parties involved. The average Canadian is not specifically concerned with political byplay, whether Mr. King scores against either the Ontario or Quebec Premier, or vice versa. But he is very definitely interested in the future financial relationships between the Dominion and the provinces, since his pocketbook is directly or indirectly under attack in any case. In other words, the provincial Premiers could do a lot worse than meet together, thrash out their respective financial and taxation problems, decide among themselves on a policy of mutual compromise, and then present the Prime Minister and his colleagues with a set of proposals which could be considered on their merits. Such a plan of procedure, in our opinion, would lift this difficult and perplexing question out of the realm of political controversy and place it on a straight-business basis. This ought to suit the federal cabinet. And if the Premiers could meet in Victoria, Regina, Winnipeg, or anywhere somewhat removed from the atmosphere of the national capital, departmental busybodies would have little opportunity to inject the Ottawa complex.

A GOOD HABIT ESTABLISHED

EARLY REPORTS FROM OFFICIALS IN charge of payroll deduction sales of the new Canada Savings Bonds indicate that this invitation to thrift is being taken up by the wage-earner quite as readily as were the earlier issues of Victory Loans. If that trend is maintained, the citizens of this Dominion have every right to congratulate themselves on the establishment of a praiseworthy habit which, in addition to increasing their own security, speaks well for the soundness of the nation as a whole. The adoption of the course indicated in returns to date promises the establishment of a strong bulwark against inflation. By paying their weekly or monthly instalments for this security the employee is withholding just that much from the flood of spending money which could engulf Canadian economy while production still lags considerably behind demand. Similarly the reports of investment dealers, trust companies and banks, which are handling sales, show a public determination to invest available funds in this completely safe issue. Canadians are demonstrating their appreciation of a good thing and are protecting themselves from the follies which too frequently attend prosperity.

NOT BREAD ALONE—BUT . . .

NONE WILL CHALLENGE THE FACT that man does not live by bread alone. But if the theatre is to be considered among the intangibles which go to feed his spiritual personality, it must be recognized that the actors must be fed. The point is advanced in respect to the remark by Miss Dorothy Somerset, assistant in dramatics of the Extension Department, U.B.C., who told a Victoria audience this week that little has been achieved by Canada in the fields of theatre, music and philosophy. By that the lecturer did not mean that Canadians had not excelled on the legitimate stage. Raymond Massey's distinction in that field may set him above most of his fellow countrymen, but Alexander Knox, to name but one more, has displayed marked talent in important dramatic company. And the lecturer's note that drama was virtually 100 per cent amateur in this Dominion will be readily understood. Outstanding plays and other artistic entertainments have run for successive years in New York, but nowhere in Canada can a population be found to furnish such patronage for a domestic stage. Canadians have done well as thespians, on the boards or under the klieg lights. But there seems little hope that those of ability in the theatre can remain in Canada and live luxuriously unless they are the proteges of government or wealthy individuals. What financial inducement can be offered them here in competition with Broadway or Hollywood? There is, of course, a place for drama in this country. It is being fostered in the interests of cultural appreciation. But it can never be measured by the same yardstick as that of the United States, which will continue to provide the financial magnet to attract the Masseys, the Knoxes, the Shearers and the Pickfords.

THE CASE FOR SPORTS

ATHLETICS ALONE DO NOT OFFER A complete solution to the problem of unsavory developments among young people. But United States Attorney-General Tom Clark will find wide support for his statement that his talks with boys have convinced him that sports are tops as a crime preventive. And there will be little inclination to challenge his argument that "if every community had a first-rate, well-planned sports program, many a potential delinquent could be saved."

Mr. Clark has put forward this idea in comment on the national council of juvenile delinquency to be held in Washington, D.C., Nov. 20, 21 and 22. More than 1,000 civic organizations of all kinds have agreed to send delegates to the meeting. He hopes that sports groups will have representatives present. Two salient features stand out among many others in the case for sports as a deterrent to delinquency. The actual physical games use up youthful energies that, without healthy outlets, may be diverted to unfortunate channels. Moreover, the principles of sportsmanship which any worthwhile coach or instructor seeks to implant in his charges are a direct counter agent to the shoddiness that manifests itself in the early stages of criminality exposed in delinquency. The second point places major responsibilities on those who help to organize and direct youth in various branches of athletics. The coach or instructor must help his charges toward excellence in the game they play; but he must put the same importance on the principles of fair play as upon the desire to win. There is probably greater need today than ever before to "hold the game above the prize." Certainly the most valuable potentiality of sport to build character depends upon that philosophy; without it, the value of games to society is largely lost.

Mr. Clark, speaking from personal experience, has underscored the opportunities afforded communities to take constructive action against delinquency. What he says in reference to the United States applies with equal force to Canada.

THE RIGHT TO PROTEST

ADDRESSING OUR FRIENDS TO THE south, Amos Parrish Magazine puts forward an obvious truth which seems to be escaping general notice in the clouds and smoke screens of the present day. Says this lucid publication in its October issue:

"The right of minorities to protest is as American as baseball and certainly never should be questioned nor retarded. But aren't you fed up to your ears by the noise made by some minority groups? We are. . . They have found they can get enough suckers who can't think straight to follow them and to have an influence on the lives of millions of right-thinking Americans who have to be burdened with the results of the influence of a few screwballs. . . Our American system and way of life is certainly not all right. But it is just as certainly not all wrong. And it is right many more times than it's wrong."

If the writer substituted "hockey" for "baseball" and "Canadian" for "American" in the foregoing excerpt, his remarks might be widely applied in this Dominion. Canada is not Paradise. She has her faults and some of them have gone uncorrected too long. But if the average citizen will take just a moment or two to analyze his reasons for remaining a Canadian, he must be impressed by the fact that much carping criticism of his country is essentially hollow. The average Canadian is here because he likes it here, because the country gives him a decent living, and wide opportunities for the enjoyment of that living. He, too, has a right to criticism. But he will be well advised if he lifts the "noise made by minority groups" and declines to accept, holus-bolus, all the complaints that reach his ears.

EVERYTHING CLEAR?

THE CONFERENCE OF STUDIO UNIONS went on strike in Hollywood because its members wanted jobs currently held by the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees. To enforce its action against the I.A.T.S.E., the C.S.U. threw a picket line around the movie studios. Now I.A.T.S.E. members are respecting the picket line set up to knock them out of their jobs. Is everything perfectly clear?

FRESHENING.

AFTER THE DULL, SLUGGISH DAYS, when the year is shrugging off the husks of one season and scarce ready to don the mantle of another, the first blustery winds of fall provide their own tonic. They come galloping in from the sea, coldish in their exuberance, not yet driven furiously by the lash of winter. There is mischief in them and some vandalism in gardens unprepared for their rolistering play. But in their vitality they brush away the cobwebs and nostalgic relics of days that have gone. They switch color into sallow cheeks, bring sharpness to a lagging tread, blow away the lotus lethargy of a softer climate.

It is good to stride against the wind, purposeful and aggressive, savoring only the physical reaction of a quickened pulse. There is exhilaration in a brisk walk by the seashore, over which fine spindrift whips its stinging, salty breath. There is wonder in the balanced hovering of gulls above it and their quick soaring downwind. And though the gust's plucking fingers shred the rich garment of autumn trees, there is a fitness to it, lest the bulk of leaves drag branches from the parent trunk when the harsher gales begin their onslaught.

THE FIRST STEP in the direction of more adequate care for elderly people who have no means of support has now been taken. Some 2,000,000 persons of 60 years and over have had their pensions raised from $2.00 a week to $5.20 in the case of men and single women.

This is little enough and there must always be disadvantages in a condition of aged dependence. It seems, too, that when the state gives with one hand it takes away with the other. Men of 65 and women of 60 must retire from work in order to receive this full amount. If they go on working 20 cents is deducted for every $4.00 they earn. The last straw would seem to be that immediately after the first increased payment was made, special reduced admission charges at many cinemas for old-age pensioners were withdrawn. Since a weekly visit to the pictures is often the only entertainment these elderly people indulge in, this seems to be the epitome of meanness. It has, however, nothing to do with the government.

IT IS ESTIMATED that 28 out of every 29 old people in Britain have to have state aid in order to go on living. And their numbers are growing every year. It is expected that in the next 10 to 15 years the full impact of the small family and the childless marriage will hit still more thousands of couples now approaching middle age. The lack of younger relatives to care for them is the commonest factor in dependence in old age.

Plans for the future include the building of hostels and even blocks of one-roomed flats specially adapted to the needs of the elderly where those who are not chronically ill can retain their self-esteem by caring for themselves in privacy.

JOHN STRACHEY, Minister of Food, is in the process of translation into wax by Madame Tussaud's great-great grandson, Bernard Tussaud and his small band of experts.

To effect this image of immortality is no simple matter. It takes about four months to finish the job and you have to be one of the Tussaud family to be able to do it at all.

Mr. Tussaud took a young woman artist, Vera Bland, and a photographer, Reginald Edds, along with him to see Mr. Strachey. While talking with him for something like three hours, Mr. Tussaud measured his features carefully, Miss Bland made notes of the color and texture of his hair and skin and Mr. Edds took about three dozen photographs—full length and just heads. There was Mr. Strachey from every angle—even the top of his head, the nape of his neck and under his chin.

WHEN THE HEAD has been finished and duplicated in wax, Miss Bland will begin inserting hairs, one by one. She softens the wax under a light bulb sufficiently to permit her to cut each hair into it. When it hardens again it is impossible to pull the hair out. Miss Bland also tints the complexion to the proper degree of freshness or otherwise and paints the mouth. Mr. Tussaud finishes up with a pair of surgical glass eyes which take him about a day to insert so that they don't squint.

Time was when a new suit and underclothes—yes, the waxworks wear underclothes—could be ordered from the tailor. A member of the staff would wear them for a few days to remove a too new appearance, and presto! a new model would appear amongst the great to be stared at at will by you and me when we're in London. Now Mr. Strachey will have to be wheeled into giving up a suit of clothes.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S had many vicissitudes during the war. They were short of everything from skilled staff to beeswax. There is a desperate lag now in their work, but they can't catch up very fast because shortages still exist. They need, for instance, to bring the Royal princesses up to date.

Londoners seldom visit Madame Tussaud's except on Easter Monday when they flock there. The idea that you will get a reward for sleeping the night in the Chamber of Horrors is a myth. Grown-ups form the major part of the daily attendance and of these the majority are courting couples.

The next project to be tackled by Bernard Tussaud is a tableau of British and Dominion V.C.'s. Col. C. C. I. Merritt, M.P. of South Saskatchewan Regiment and hero of Dieppe will be among them. He will join Mr. Mackenzie King and General McNaughton who are the only Canadians in Mme. Tussaud's now. When materials permit it Mr. Tussaud would like to get the most outstanding Canadian ice-hockey player to immortalize in his hall of sport.

BRITAIN'S GREATEST bomber ace is going to try to beat the trans-Atlantic record in a Mosquito. He is Group Captain Geoffrey Cheshire, V.C. He won his Victoria Cross in 1944 after completing 100 bombing raids over Germany. He was one of two British observers of the atomic raid on Nagasaki.

Group Captain Cheshire is in the news these days for something else as well. He has successfully started a land-settlement scheme for ex-servicemen in Market Harborough in Leicestershire. After leaving the air force for reasons of health he decided that without training the young men from the services were going to drift into situations similar to those existing after the last war. He also believes that the self-interest which alone motivates most men is not satisfactory. In other words, he is trying to be a practical Christian without any unusual economic theories.

Pearkes Urges Public To Support Canadian Navy

A plea for public support for the maintenance of an adequate Royal Canadian Navy was made by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.P. for Nanaimo, guest speaker at the Lions Club luncheon Friday.

Gen. Pearkes said it was essential for Canada to maintain an adequate fleet.

In stressing the importance of maintaining adequate armed forces, the speaker said that a third world war would see Canada as the major theatre of operations.

In support of this contention, Gen. Pearkes pointed out there were only three nations today who were capable of launching a war—the United States, Great Britain and Russia. With this in view, he said, Canadians should take precautions now to safeguard their territory from aggression from the air, land or sea.

Better pay was necessary to induce young men to join the navy, said Gen. Pearkes, who pointed out that the navy was still short of 5,000 men to bring it up to its quota of 10,000 personnel.

"The navy is a highly technical service and must have trained men," he said. "If you want good men to enter the navy you will have to pay them."

Gen. Pearkes also stressed the importance of maintaining a strong fleet air-arm and said Canada would soon have two commissioned carriers.

He praised the work of the Canadian Navy during the war which, he said, was left with the responsibility of escorting convoys across the Atlantic when the British fleet was tied up in the Mediterranean, Far East and home waters.

Says Winter Driving Requires More Skill

"It is very easy in our Victoria climate to make the mistake of thinking that summer driving habits can be continued throughout the winter," Chief J. A. McLellan warns.

"While we do not have to contend with a rigorous climate, still there are some winter hazards that we share in common with the rest of Canada—longer darkness, poorer visibility, wet roads, fog and occasional frost. Winter driving, therefore, requires different methods and more skill."

"The first rule of safe winter driving is to keep your car in good condition, making sure that your brakes, tires and lights are in first-class shape, and that your windshield wiper is working properly."

"The second rule is to use good common sense. Reduce your summer speed to meet winter conditions; take curves cautiously, and keep your car under control at all times. Always drive so that you can stop in plenty of time, no matter what the emergency."

To Open I.O.D.E. Autumn Fair

MRS. NANCY HODGES, M.L.A.

A mammoth autumn fair, planned by combined chapters of the I.O.D.E. in Victoria, will take place at the Crystal Garden, the afternoon and evening of Nov. 5. Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., will officially open the affair at 3. There will be stalls for home cooking, superfluties, stork, dolls and toys, gifts and aprons. A fashion show and entertainment is planned, bingo will be played, and afternoon tea served. In the evening a midway will be the centre of attraction. An old-time dance will take place in the lower ballroom to the music of Stewart's orchestra. In the upper ballroom, the fashion show will be repeated and guests dance to the modern music of Len Acres' orchestra. Planned in place of the joint I.O.D.E. garden party usually held in summer, the autumn fair will be one of the outstanding events of the early winter season. Mrs. G. B. Elliott is general convenor, assisted by Mesdames C. F. Henigman, G. W. Lillie, T. Lumsden and D. W. Carter.

Candle-Lit Rites
At St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a double ring ceremony Friday evening at 8.15 when Miss Kathleen Anne Blakemore and Morley T. Davies, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Davies, Rhydelwis, S. Wales, were united in marriage.

Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums formed the setting for the candle-lit ceremony performed by Rev. J. L. W. McLean. The granddaughter of Mrs. S. Nesbit, 977 Hampshire Road, was given in marriage by her uncle, John Nesbit. She wore a pale blue afternoon dress of crepe fashioned with apron front trimmed with sequins, keyhole neckline and short sleeves, repeating the sequin trim. She chose a tiny blue and grey feathered Juliet cap, grey accessories and a bouquet of pink rosebuds centred with a mauve orchid to complete her ensemble. Her only jewelry was a set of rhinestone earrings, the gift of the groom.

Miss Elsa Norris as maid of honor, was gownned in a frock of pink crepe. She carried a Colonial bouquet of rosebuds to match her dress. Miss Margaret Blakemore of Alberni, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She chose a pale blue crepe dress featuring a draped skirt and short sleeves and she carried a Colonial bouquet. They wore half-hats of flowers to match their frocks.

Eddie Corbett was groomsmen and ushering were Eric and Gerald Ascroft.

C. Warren presided at the organ and Miss Theima Gaetz sang "Through the Years."

Mrs. S. Nesbit and Miss Maude Tait assisted the bride party in receiving guests in the Duke of Kent Room at the Empress Hotel, following the ceremony. The young couple cut the three-tier wedding cake which was a gift of Mrs. C. Ripingale. The bride's toast was proposed by Charles Ripingale.

A grey dress, matching hat and cherry topcoat with silver fox trim and orchid corsage bouquet was worn by the bride for traveling.

Following their honeymoon trip up-island, Mr. and Mrs. Davies will reside at Hampshire Road.

Naida Blackmore

Miss Naida Matilda May Blackmore, elder daughter of Mrs. M. L. Groves, Duncan, B.C., exchanged nuptial vows with John Arthur Robinson, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Robinson, 2735 Belmont Avenue, Friday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. Hood, who is a long-standing friend of the bride's family.

An ice-blue afternoon dress of cashmere wool was worn by the bride and she completed her costume with a small pink feathered hat, matching gloves and corsage bouquet of gardenias and pink rosebuds. She was given in marriage by her uncle, A. V. Cooper of Vancouver.

The bride's sister, Miss Vera Blackmore, was her only attendant. Miss Blackmore wore a medium blue afternoon dress of fine wool and chose a brown velvet hat trimmed with blue sequins, brown accessories and corsage bouquet of gold Tullis-man roses to complete her ensemble.

Groomsmen were J. R. Naylor, T. G. Harper played the traditional Wedding March.

At the reception which followed at the Kit Kat Dining Room, Mrs. Groves, in a fuchsia afternoon dress, black accessories and corsage bouquet of white carnations; and Mrs. Robinson, in a pale blue frock, black accessories and corsage bouquet of pink carnations, assisted the young couple in welcoming their guests. A three-tier wedding cake centred the table with vases of pink carnations and white baby chrysanthemums on either side. Rev. Hood proposed the bride's toast.

For a motor trip up-island, the bride wore a leaf green dress with chocolate brown trim and matching accessories, and a beige topcoat. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will reside in Victoria.

Returns To Victoria To Live

Mrs. G. P. Clarke, former regent of Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., returned to Canada the last trip of the Aquitania and came right through to Victoria where she plans to live.

With her was her youngest son, John, who has just completed school. Her oldest son, George, a sub-lieut. in the R.C.N.V.R. during the war, and her second son, Harry, a former pilot in the R.C.A.F., and now with Trans-Canada Airlines, reached the city some weeks ago.

Mrs. Clarke was living in Southampton with her sons when the war commenced. Her house was bombed literally "over her head," while she and young John crouched under the stairs.

"Everything collapsed over us," she says, "but we were among the lucky ones. We came out alive."

For the past five and a half years she has been a member of the Wrens. She went through basic training with the younger girls, "squad drills, route marches and all" and received her commission in 1941. From then on she acted as confidential book officer at H.M.S. Hornet, in the coastal command at Gosport, near Portsmouth.

"This was headquarters for the 'little ship,'" Mrs. Clarke says. "We also had a Canadian flotilla based there."

"During D-Day fighting," she adds, "we were in charge of all the secret commands. Couldn't leave the place. I slept in my clothes on the office table for days." Mrs. Clarke had 21 girls under her.

For the present Mrs. Clarke is the guest of Major and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, Topp Avenue.

"We're going to stay in Victoria," she says. "It looks like the land of plenty for us. Oranges, bananas, apples, and not rationed! We just can't believe it!"

O'Connell, fruits and vegetables; Mrs. C. Macklin, ham dinner; Mesdames F. White and E. Vernon-Thompson, $10 contest; Mrs. E. Bland, fish pond; Mrs. French, hamper; Mrs. A. Mabel Viggers Bride
Of Thomas G. C. Fox

Miss Mabel Edith, only daughter of Mrs. E. Viggers, 1424 Hillside Avenue, and the late Francis Viggers, exchanged vows with Thomas George Charles Fox, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fox, 2330 Lee Avenue at St. Saviour's Cathedral, Nelson, B.C., on Oct. 11. Rev. Frederick Clark, dean of Kootenay performed the ceremony.

For her wedding costume the bride wore a brown dressmaker suit accented with turquoise trimming, matching hat and corsage bouquet of cream chrysanthemums and Tullis-man roses. Miss Constance Ramsay, Nelson, was bridesmaid and best man, Mr. Kenneth Burt of Trail.

A reception for close friends followed at Kokanee Lodge. For traveling, the bride donned a beige topcoat trimmed with mink. On return from their honeymoon by motor through the interior of the province, Mr. and Mrs. Fox will make their home in Nelson.

The groom served with the R.C.A.F. for four years, with two years service overseas.

Chamber Opposes Full-Day Closing Of Victoria Stores

A resolution protesting against the proposed closing of stores for a full day in Victoria was unanimously adopted by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday.

George MacDonald described the civic by-law as undemocratic and one which would prove detrimental to merchants in Victoria. He pointed out that it was necessary for the stores to keep open all week in the interest of the tourist trade, which he said was the basic industry of the city.

"Do you think the tourists will be happy to find our stores closed?" asked the speaker who was especially referring to the closing of gift and china shops.

He added that the by-law would also result in fewer people coming to the city to shop, with the result that retail merchants would suffer business losses.

AGAINST 'FIVE-DAY TOWN'

It was also essential for the stores to remain open for the farmers who came to town to buy or to sell their products, he said, and perishable food would not keep for one day.

"We can't afford to make Victoria a five-day town," he said. "We can't give people full employment if business is curtailed."

He said that Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, had objected to the all-day closing on the ground that it would seriously affect employment.

It was also pointed out at the meeting that the by-law would affect freight distribution and would hinder the delivery of goods if all the stores were closed on Wednesday. Furthermore, it was stated that the plan which was tried in eastern United States had proved unsuccessful.

Another point brought up at the meeting was that the by-law would divert trade to other districts where "all-day closing" was not law and as a result local merchants would suffer losses.

Maj. H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the question was of great importance and steps would be taken to bring the matter to public notice and to discuss the by-law with city councillors.

"I believe that the City Council was a little hasty in coming to a decision," said Maj. Holmes.

$6,000 New Traffic Lights System Aim For Douglas St.

Victoria's board of police commissioners took steps at Friday afternoon's meeting to have a different setup of traffic control signals installed on Douglas Street's five main intersections already equipped with lights and to install traffic signals at five other main cross-road points in the city.

Kenneth Reid, superintendent of street lighting, was on hand to advise the commission on the traffic lights proposals, and the meeting sent recommendations to the council asking that tenders be called for the five projects approved by the commission, specifications for the same to be drafted by Mr. Reid.

The following recommendations for bids were passed by the meeting:

A system providing three-color (red, amber and green), two-way corner signals, and intersection controllers, to provide complete flexibility of traffic control, to supersede the present five-point traffic control system on Douglas Street.

The installation of traffic flashing signals at Five Points (where Moss and Fairfield intersect), Douglas and Humboldt and Yates and Harrison.

An actuated signal be installed at Hillside Avenue and Quadra Street.

A traffic control signal be installed at Fort Street and Oak Bay Avenue.

FORT DOUGLAS FEATURES DISCUSSION

In dealing with the Douglas Street traffic control lighting changes, talk centred on the intersection at Fort and Douglas. Mayor Percy E. George noted the deluge of mail, and personal telephone messages he had received from irate citizens over the danger ever present at this intersection since the recent death of the boy who ran into a streetcar turning the corner.

"Majority of the people who have talked or contacted me about this corner have been clamoring for consideration for the walking public at this point, which I personally consider the most dangerous intersection in the city. In other words, they wanted to see an exclusive period for pedestrians to use the intersection with all vehicle traffic stopped."

Such a traffic signal system was in operation in Vancouver at Granville and Hastings Street, it was pointed out, but after lengthy debate on whether a similar setup should be installed at Fort and Douglas, the commission did not accept it on the basis "it would disrupt progressive traffic flow."

Chief of Police John A. McLellan was of the opinion that if traffic was driven away from this point "you create a hazard at another." The mayor said he honestly thought that when the streetcars were off the street the traffic picture on the downtown streets would be much brighter.

CHIEF ASKS EARLY ACTION

The police chief asked for early action in calling for the tenders. "If we delay too long, it will be this time next year, before we get them. As it is it will take 120 days to get the materials required for the new systems."

The new Douglas Street traffic light proposal does away with the centre suspended red and green flashing light. Instead there would be signals at each corner of an intersection, directly opposite each pedestrian. It provides control of both pedestrian and vehicular traffic. The amber portion of the light, which flashes on after the red, gives drivers ample warning of a signal change. When it's color comes on no more vehicles may cross the pedestrian lane, but those that have got over the walkers' line can finish their movements inside the square.

The actuated signal is a more complex arrangement "but which the city of Montreal has adopted almost completely for its traffic control system," said Mr. Reid. Traffic operates this, by a submerged magnetic switch in the intersection.

In addition there is a pedestrian button at the corner to give the walker a chance to cross.

The present suspended lights on Douglas Street can be utilized for other places when their need is required, Chief McLellan said. However, in the case of Five Points and at Douglas and Humboldt Street, where

5-Car Smashup Kills 4

TACOMA (AP)—William D. Bridges, a McChord Field soldier, died in a hospital shortly before last midnight, bringing to four the deaths in a five-car smash-up between here and Fort Lewis. Three more were injured, two of them critically.

The accident occurred, state patrolmen reported, when one automobile swung out of its lane and collided head-on with another.

There are more than four corners, special flashing lamps would have to be secured, he added.

Education of the public to the newer types of signals would be necessary, it was pointed out.

Mayor, Alderman Agree Victoria Police Underpaid

Mayor Percy E. George and Alderman B. J. Gadsden were in accord at Friday's meeting of the police commission that Victoria's policemen were not getting as good salaries as police in other cities of a comparable size from Winnipeg west, and the commissioners decided to take steps to try and rectify the condition.

Discussion on the subject arose when letters were read from the Vancouver Island Joint Council of Public Employees and the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association asking for an increase in police personnel's cost-of-living bonuses in view of the higher cost of living.

"I would like to see our police department officers treated as fairly as those in other western Canadian cities. I don't think they are," Commissioner Gadsden declared. To which the Mayor said he was in agreement, as did Commissioner Duncan McTavish.

However the mayor was against raising the cost-of-living bonus. Instead the commission endorsed his motion that the City Council be asked to incorporate the cost-of-living bonus into the basic salary. He strongly approved of evening up the cost-of-living bonuses so that a married man got the same amount.

It was then decided to have W. Olser, secretary, contact police departments in other western Canada cities to learn the salary schedules in effect and to use this information to bring local officers' pay up on the same footing.

VICTORIA football fans are just beginning to realize how good a referee George Barnes really is. This young fellow, a mere youngster when his experience as an official is considered, has drawn less criticism from the sidelines on his work than any referee we have seen work in the soccer game in years. Barnes only started refereeing last season, but from the first time he took the field, George was a natural.

BARNES' great success is due mainly to the fact that he keeps up with the play. Seldom is he caught out of position, with the result he is right on the spot to make a decision, thus eliminating any protest on the part of a player that he was not on the job. Barnes' ability to move up and down the field with the play is not without training. George gets out at least once a week and works out with the players, making certain he is in shape to go all out for the full 90 minutes. A good referee is quickly recognized by the mainline clubs of the Pacific Coast League. Last Sunday, George was imported to handle the whistle in the exhibition match at North Vancouver between North Shore and St. Andrews. Reports from the team managers in the match were: "Barnes did a grand job."

IN the popular player contest being conducted among the mainline Coast League football fans, Johnny Webber, St. Andrews fullback, is out in front by a narrow margin over Jimmy Spencer, veteran inside forward of North Shore. This pair are making a runaway race of the voting. Spencer holding nearly a 700-vote margin over the third-place occupant, Laurie Pallot of Kerrisdale.

TO OPERATE independently, or to tie up with a baseball farm system? Just about every minor league baseball club faces that decision sooner or later. Victoria Athletics are considering a hook-up with the famed New York Yankees, operators of one of the largest farm systems in baseball. The Bremerton Blue-jackets, another Western International League outfit, are about to form a pact with the New York Giants, because they're finding it tough to get players of calibre. Their recent sale of outfielder Bill Barisoff to the Giants for a reported $12,000 opened the door for a tie-up with the National League club. Even the Seattle

Vancouver Puckmen In Overtime Victory

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Canucks came from behind a 3 to 2 deficit Friday night with a three-goal barrage in the third period and went on to win a 4 to 3 overtime victory from the Tacoma Rockets in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game.

Canuck right winger Ab McDougall was the man who scored the tying goal late in the third and then fed Joe Conn a passout from the corner for the winning marker in overtime.

Ken Cully, Doug Verity were the other Vancouver scorers and Joe Medynski, Glen Vickers and Doug Carrigan scored the Rocket goals.

Scoring got under way in the second period, when Joe Medynski beat Canuck's Al Rollins on a pass from Jack Jeffrey. Glen Vickers and Doug Carrigan went to work in the third and the score was 3 to 0 for the Rockets at the four-minute mark.

Vancouver evened up the encounter with three goals in quick succession to send the contest into overtime. Ken Cully, Doug Verity and Ab McDougall were the marksmen.

Both goalies were stone walls, with the men in front keeping up dazzling passing plays.

The tying goal was scored by McDougall, who routed in a pass from Bernie Bathgate while Roger Jenkins was sitting out a two-minute penalty for elbowing.

Coast League Again Seeks Major Status

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Officials of the Pacific Coast League once again will petition the major leagues for recognition as a major loop when the national meeting is held here in December.

A similar petition was turned down last year.

League owners, winding up their annual winter meeting Friday, also voted to propose a post-season series between the winner here and the victor in the "little world series" between the American Association and the International League.

Such a series would be played entirely at the Coast League winner's park. Officials of the other two triple-A leagues will be approached when they arrive for the December convention.

The coast circuit will open 1947 play April 1. The 26-week schedule remains intact and the Governor's Cup playoffs again will be held.

CARPET BOWLING

The following matches in the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League will be played during the next two weeks:

October 28—Beadles vs. C.C.F.

October 30—Esquimalt vs. Friars; Rangers vs. Sherwood.

November 4—Beadles vs. Friars.

November 5—Sherwood vs. Friars.

November 8—Willows Park vs. Esquimalt.

Rangers of the Coast League are considering it right now—whether to continue to go it alone or tie up with a major league club so it will be easier to crack the player market.

Leo Durocher May Manage Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—President Larry MacPhail of the baseball Yankees said Friday that "strong consideration" was being given "strong consideration" as manager of the club next season, but denied that a decision had yet been reached.

Some of his auditors at the press conference gained a clear impression that Leo Durocher of Brooklyn Dodgers still was a strong candidate. The Yankee head noted Leo had not yet signed a Dodgers contract for '47.

Four Stars Tied In Richmond Open Golf

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Four of the United States' crack professional golfers—Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.; Australian Jim Ferris of Chicago; Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Herman Keiser of Akron Ohio—were tied Friday with scores of 141 at the halfway mark of the $10,000 Richmond open golf tournament.

The bespectacled Vines, extensible great who turned to golf, fired a three-under-par 68, the best round of Friday's 18 holes.

Sales Clerk Earns Bonus First Time

"I was always last in the store's monthly sales contest, but today I won my first bonus cheque for highest sales," says a saleswoman, who made a simple discovery.

Like many on their feet all day, foot torture made her cranky with customers until she started massaging her feet with Zam-Buk at night. Zam-Buk's soothing, penetrating herbal oils quickly relieve sore, tired aching feet and help ease painful swelling. Many salespeople, postmen, waitresses, and busy housewives rely on Zam-Buk for foot comfort. Zam-Buk has dozens of other uses whenever a healing, soothing, antiseptic ointment is needed—minor cuts, burns, scalds, blisters. Athlete's Foot, sprains, muscular aches and pains. Gidder Has Wooden Leg

A wooden left leg is no handicap to Bill Stewart, who can chase footballs with the best of them. He has a regular berth on the freshman sophomore squad of Murphysboro, Ill., township high school.

Angling and Hunting

By CAP THORSEN

Another push in the direction of cementing a spirit of goodwill and co-operation between the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and the professional boatmen and guides who cater to them, was the enjoyable get-together at Brentwood's Tudor Lodge this midweek when the pros were hosts to the angling club's directorate.

Realizing the value of these harmony-building meetings, the first was held earlier in the year in town when the inlet's guides were the guests. Spokesmen for both sides Wednesday night frankly admitted the union had already paid dividends in that it had brought the pros and the sportsmen closer together. Boathouse owner and guide Hugh Creed, who sports a wooden leg as a result of an injury in the frontline of World War I, spoke for the inlet's group, while Harry Woolston and Ray Ritchie, chiefs of the V.S.I.A.A. and Chinook Club, respectively, did the talking for the club.

ACTIVE ON CLUBHOUSE PLANS

"Don't for one minute think that our plans for the establishment of a clubhouse at Brentwood Bay are a dead issue... they are far from that, and in the near future the directors hope to be in a position to make a definite statement in regard to this set-up," said Woolston.

Creed pointed out the clubhouse plan offered an opportunity to construct facilities for the taking out and putting in of craft. He noted that this could be done a great deal cheaper than at the present time when commercial firms' facilities at the inlet had to be employed.

Others present were: Anglers' director, Dr. L. E. (Len) Jones, Chester MacPhail, Dan Thomas, Freddy Smith, Les Dicks, Charlie Kinloch, professionals, Harry Gilbert, Harry Peard, Barney Brophy, Hugh Francis, Art Hall (Goldstream end), Ernie "Lucky" Lee and F. E. W. "Doc" Smith. Mrs. Gerry Clute and Miss Mona Rickaby were the hostesses.

COWICHAN BAY

While stormy weather at Cowichan Bay yesterday cut down fishing activity, some good catches have been taken this week.

Elliebeck Wilson sent down five fish Thursday. In addition to many Victorians hunting the bay waters for coho this season, is a good sprinkling of Californians.

TROUT FISHING

The red parmacene-belle hackle netted some good results for fly fishermen at the headwaters of the Cowichan River last week-end. Will Christopher and cartoonist Hugh Weatherly bagged a half dozen on this fly. C. A. Gibbard, casting the same, scored a basket of 10. They are rainbow trout going up to two pounds and better.

THE HUNTING FRONT

Generally speaking the hunting clan did not find very good shooting when they went after ducks, pheasants and quail on the opening days of these seasons last Saturday.

Good duck shooting is not expected until later on when the northern freeze-up starts the migration to the south.

BREVITIES

Dan Moses and Albert Jones, hunting together in the Deep Cove area, came across at least 10 carcasses of long-time dead pheasants, which they presume were members of the flocks liberated. Ken Mollet, Laurel Road, Seaside, shot a 163-pound buck on Cloak Hill last week-end. A small herd of goats in the

Navy Cadets Win Onerous Fixture; Three Tilts Tonight

Royal Canadian Navy hoopers made their first start of the season a winning one last night in the feature senior B game on the evening's card at the Victoria High School, when they trounced Bruisers 44 to 37.

Eagles, intermediate A quintette, campaigning in senior company, defeated MacDonalds 36 to 20 in the other senior B match, while Chinese Students won their second straight in the intermediate B division by whipping Brentwood Aces, 33 to 25 in the preliminary.

Leading all the way in their game with Bruisers, Navy, led by Pete Bates, who tallied 19 points, pulled away from the opposition in the fourth quarter after the Bruisers had threatened their lead at the close of the third canto. Stan James, with 11 was the big gun for the sailors in the final quarter.

Eagles jumped into a 16 to 2 lead at the half in their contest with MacDonalds, and although McCorkall's boys made a strong comeback in the second half, they were never able to close the gap. Gordie Ellis and Red McMillan topped the scorers with eight and seven points, respectively.

Tom-Der was the whole show for the Students as he pushed up 18 points in their win over the Aces.

LEGION GET ROWE

Coach Alex McKeachie of the Canadian Legion, announced yesterday that Hank Rowe and Ian McKeachie of last season's Dominion champion Dominos, will be in uniform for the veterans tonight when they tangle with the Army and Navy Vets in a senior A contest at the High School gym.

Brentwood Aces and St. Louis College Alumni will meet at 8 in a senior B game, preceded by a senior C clash between Jack's Meat Market and Army and Navy Vets.

Secretary Frank Elliott announced a change of schedule for games on Monday night and Nov. 6. On Monday, MacDonald's vs. Navy will replace the Mooney's.

McGill Tennis Aces Meet Prairie Squad

MONTREAL (CP)—McGill's intercollegiate tennis champions will face their first challenge Sunday when they clash here with a team from University of Saskatchewan.

Don Hodges of Regina, a Davis Cup candidate last spring, will lead the Saskatchewan team, while the McGill team will include Jack Spencer, intercollegiate singles champion, and Bobby Duford of Ottawa, another Davis Cup candidate.

McGill won the college crown earlier this week.

INTER-HIGH RUGBY

Scores in Inter-High School Rugby League matches follow: Golds 17, Oak Bay Acorns 3. Blacks 3, Oak Bay Bays 0.

The number of early injuries wrecking National Hockey League clubs indicated today the league may have declared a "survival of the fittest" marathon when it extended its 50-game schedule an extra 10.

The 10-day-old season finds hardly a team with its starting line-up intact for this four-game week-end—three to night and one tomorrow.

Dressen Resignation Refused By Rickey

BROOKLYN (AP)—President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday refused to accept Charley Dressen's resignation as coach of the National League club.

In a statement regarding Dressen's announcement to the effect he had severed his connection with the Dodgers, Rickey said: "Dressen and I had a conference last Sept. 16 in which we agreed that Charley was to remain as a coach for the next two years. We also had a verbal agreement that I would not consent to his release unless he were offered a major league manager's post."

Aged French Tennis Stars Score Wins

LONDON (AP)—The "old guard" of French tennis—Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, whose ages total 100 years—Friday scored clean victories in a tournament between the international clubs of Britain and France.

It was the dashing Borotra who, despite his 48 years, took only 40 minutes to hand Donald Butler a 6-3, 6-2 defeat.

Later the bounding Brugnon and the 32-year-old Brugnon teamed to beat Butler and H. Billington, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

The Stanley Cup Montreal Canadiens, whose start has been slower than in the last few seasons, seem about the hardest hit. Already, they have dipped into Buffalo Bisons, their American League farm team, to bring up centre Johnny Quilty for tonight's clash at home against Detroit Red Wings and the return engagement in Detroit tomorrow.

There will be missing men in tonight's other clashes, when Toronto Maple Leafs play host to Chicago Black Hawks and the surprising New York Rangers tackle the Bruins at Boston.

The matches, incidentally, should shake up the standings considerably as three teams now are tied for second place a single point behind the front-running Rangers and Maple Leafs, with Detroit two points further back in the cellar as a result of their tone tie.

MAX BENTLEY ILL

One of the luckier teams so far as injuries are concerned, Chicago suffered a heavy shock when star forward Max Bentley went to bed with a throat ailment shortly after they checked into Toronto yesterday. The Leaf team they meet lost centre Syl Apps with a hand fracture in the opening game and may be without rookies Gus Mortson and Garth Boesch, both injured in Wednesday night's 3 to 3 tie with Boston.

Doubtful and non-starters for Canadiens include centres, Elmer Lach, Buddy O'Connor and Murph Chamberlain, all on the injured list, and big Butch Bouchard, Quilty, back for his first season since 1940-41 after R.C.A.F. service, was brought from Buffalo to centre captain Toe Blake and Joe Benoit.

At Boston, the Bruins had centre Don Callinger and Bobby Bauer, winger of the Kitchener line, out for their last meeting with Leafs and both are doubtful starters.

Ratepayers Approve Naming Of Kersey

The full executive of Saanich Ward 6 Ratepayers' Association unanimously endorsed Friday night the nomination of Councillor W. C. Kersey for re-election to the Municipal Council.

Councillor Kersey, who no longer lives in the ward although he owns property and conducts a business there, said today he had accepted the nomination "only because it was completely unanimous."

The endorsement was moved by W. D. Mitchell and seconded by Capt. Nat Gray, J.P.

Sydney Pickles, president of the association, said Mr. Kersey had accumulated valuable experience as Ward 6 representative in the past three years and had "consistently worked for the best interests of the ward in its desire for secession from Saanich."

He said the meeting believed the interests of Saanich as a whole would be best served in the petition for secession was granted.

Work, Then Negotiate Sloan Urges Miners

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan, commissioner in the hard-rock miners' strike, today announced he had requested goldminers to return to work, following which the recommended wage increases rejected by the men and the check-off recommendation rejected by the operators be made the subject of negotiations between each mine and its local bargaining agency. If no settlement were reached within 30 days the Chief Justice suggested the matter again be referred to him.

Canada To Increase U.K. Egg Supply

Canada's export of eggs to the United Kingdom will aid Britain in increasing her per capita egg distribution from 1945's 46 eggs a year to 55 this year, J. A. Peacock, director of egg supplies for the British Ministry of Food, said in an interview today.

Britain wants Canadian eggs particularly in the fall and winter when her own home production is lowest, Mr. Peacock said, and this need will call for an intensive drive on the part of Canadian poultrymen to swing to fall and winter egg production instead of the normal spring production.

EXCHANGE TEACHERS

BEFORE THE WAR, British Columbia, in common with other provinces, saw an exchange of Canadian and British teachers operating in some of its schools.

It was not done under any government policy, but came about largely through local arrangements made between school boards and Major F. J. Ney, of the National Council of Education.

The war, of course, put a halt to the scheme, which has not been resumed owing to the dearth of teachers both here and in Great Britain.

However, I was interested to read in an American paper that the United States was invaded about two months ago by 75 British men and women.

This marks the first postwar Anglo-American exchange, 75 U.S. primary and secondary teachers having left at the same time for England.

SWOP FAMILIES, TOO

THE HUMAN "SWOP" was arranged jointly by the U.S. Office of Education, the English-Speaking Union and the British Information Services.

Everything was exchanged—not only schools and pupils, but in some instances homes and apartments, and even families.

The Britons are being paid their usual salaries, ranging from $1,080 to $1,680. To that they may add their own funds up to a total of $2,000—a limit imposed because of Britain's reluctance to export her scarce currency.

NOVELTY FOR BOTH

INCIDENTALLY, according to Fred M. Hechinger in an article in the New York Post, this restriction makes the girls sigh as they find themselves limited to window-shopping "amid this cruel sea of plenty."

Later he visited some of the visitors who are already working in widely scattered areas outside of New York to find out their reactions after taking over American classes. The consensus was that they liked it a lot and were glad that they came.

To a query as to whether they found their new pupils hard to handle, they chorused: "No, but they are as much of a novelty to us as we are to them."

One young high school teacher marvelled at the bounce and vitality of her young charges:

"You can see that they've been brought up on better food than ours. And they're so self-confident. Nothing can stop them."

COLORFUL COMMENTS

IN ANOTHER SMALL town, one of the male teachers recalled the comments of a young bobby-soxer on his first day in class:

"I like your history lessons better than any others. I can't understand a word you are saying, but I think your accent is simply divine."

A seven-year-old wanted to know "How do you get to be a lord?"

"The American classroom," this same visitor continued, "is definitely more colorful—especially on the female side."

In his school back home the "school uniform" is still compulsory and use of "cosmetics" is an unpardonable sin.

DIFFERENCES OF DEGREES

SOME OF THE VISITORS were startled to find their American opposite numbers equipped with a forbidding array of scholarly degrees.

The point being, Hechinger found, that in Britain teacher-training lays more stress on the essentials of teaching rather than mere scholarship.

All of those whom he interviewed agreed that "American school facilities are superb; school administration absolutely the 'cat's whiskers!'"

But their views as to the most important difference between the educational systems of the two countries are enlightening to anyone interested in the subject—and who isn't these days?

LOSS OF CONTINUITY

THE INTERVIEWER sums these up in some potent paragraphs:

"You in America have developed a mass production set-up. You are aiming at education of the average. We have done an excellent job in developing the superior student. You try to give something to everybody."

"We, up to recently, believed in giving the very best to the better individual. Now that we, too, have started to give equal education to all Britons, we are afraid of lowering the old standard."

The guest-teachers also saw in the American system a loss of continuity, in that the students study for the credit of a course. The subject doesn't fit into a grand scheme, in their opinion.

PROFIT TO BOTH

IT WILL BE JUST as interesting to hear what the American teachers think of British pupils, schools and system.

Doubtless both partners of this international exchange will profit by their experience—and perhaps both systems will, too.

In any event, this mutual and voluntary "swopping" of fields between those who have one of the most responsible jobs—that of guiding the young idea in its most impressionable years—cannot fail to add one more link to the growing chain of Anglo-American understanding.

Even if the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America has condemned it as British propaganda!

B.C. Shipyards May Get Contracts Worth $7,000,000

B.C. shipyards may obtain new contracts worth an estimated $7,000,000 as a result of negotiations now under way with French and Chinese interests, according to a Vancouver report.

The French deal, the report said, involves construction of four lighthouse tenders, while the Chinese are seeking three 270-foot cargo vessels for use in river and coastal trade.

The French ships would cost an estimated $2,500,000 and the Chinese ships $4,000,000.

Rumors have been current for some time in shipyard circles here to the effect that a French contract might be placed here. Up to the present, however, no contract has been signed for any new work, according to shipyard officials.

Home appliance and furniture dealers will have Fred R. Cavers (above), president of the Canadian Association of Radio and Appliance Dealers, ex-almirant of St. Catharines, Ont., as guest speaker at their banquet in the Empress Hotel Monday next, when he will present the future plans of the National Trade Section. M. Aubrey Kent, chairman of the radio and appliance dealers' division of the Retail Merchants' Association, will preside.

Argument Revived On Song About Feud

The feuding saga of "The Martins and the Coys," which Walt Disney has incorporated into his latest feature, "Make Mine Music," in technicolor, has revived one of the oldest controversies among students of American folk song, comes to the Capitol Theatre Monday.

The ditty has been accepted without question by most authorities as a traditional mountain ballad. Sociologists have used it as evidence in their discussions of private wars between backwoods families, the code of the duel among isolated primitive communities.

But the fact is that the melody and lyrics of "The Martins and the Coys" were written not quite 20 years ago by a popular dance band leader.

DOMINION THEATRE

"The Cockeye Miracle," starring Frank Morgan and Audrey Totter, is now at the Dominion. Co-starring with Frank Morgan and Audrey Totter are Keenan Wynn, Cecil Kellaway, Richard Quine, Gladys Cooper, Marshall

Thompson and Leon Ames. It is an M-G-M production taken from the play by George Seaton and produced by Irving Starr.

'Night And Day' Set Boasted Horse Show

Warner Bros. staged what appeared to be a miniature of the Kansas City Horse Show when 15 blooded horses were paraded for Mike Curtiz, director.

The horses were being selected to play the Cole Porter high-steppers in Warner's Technicolor musical, "Night and Day," opening today at the Royal Theatre with a topnotch company of players headed by Cary Grant and Alexis Smith and featuring Monty Woolley, Ginny Simms, Jane Wyman and Mary Martin.

ATLAS THEATRE

Leon Ames, Broadway actor who, since his outstanding role in "Meet Me in St. Louis," has been zooming to cinematic heights, was given one of the year's most sought after parts as the district attorney of "The Postman Always Rings Twice," now at the Atlas Theatre this week.

Defeat Of Rustlers Theme Of Picture

Racketeers in the pioneer days of the old west were common. Some of their sharper practices are brought to light in "The Caravan Trail," PRC's cinecolor epic starring Ed Dean and playing at the York Theatre Monday.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRES

Evelyn Keyes, lovely star who was last seen as the technicolor genie in "A Thousand and One Nights," enjoys the flattery of technicolor once again in her newest film, Columbia Pictures' epic western, "Renegades," now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. Also starred with Miss Keyes in "Renegades" are Willard Parker, Larry Parks and Edgar Buchanan.
